(Assembly and Classroom Programs)

On-Campus

Time: 9am - 2:15pm, evenings for PTA/PTO orgs

Grades: K – 5

Community/Family, Talented/Gifted, Special Ed, Bilingual

Description

Food is a fantastic vehicle to provide an exciting learning adventure that will captivate students as they are the “STARS” in this workshop. Students expand their discovery of the incredible world of cooking, health and nutrition through this workshop while they practically apply social studies into their daily lives. There are so many mysteries on this expedition for kids to discover. This program will start with a discussion about how Thomas Jefferson and his contemporaries wanted to expand the US. Concerns about wars, other country land claims, discovery, exploration, population growth, natural resources and price came up as important issues. This program will summarize the adventures of Lewis and Clark as they travel the country. Their discoveries will be highlighted. The tribes of Indians and others who helped them help tell the story of their success.

Students will

- Learn about different American Indian cultures and how they helped Lewis and Clark
- Discover how big the US really is
- Learn about land formations
- Hear about the plants and animals discovered and recorded by Lewis and Clark
- Discover the uses for natural resources found in America
- See how relationships develop or break down
- Partake of a cooking demo and tasting of a dish that Lewis and Clark ate
